PABLO RASELLI

ABOUTE ME

My name is Pablo Raselli, and I live in the city of Santa Fe, Argentina. As a person, I consider myself proactive, detail-oriented, demanding, and willing to help. I always strive to improve myself and achieve the goals set before me.

I am currently working at the Provincial Housing and Urban Development Department, an organization under the Province of Santa Fe. In my current role, I handle tasks related to cost readjustments, budget preparation and evaluation, project monitoring, as well as various other administrative duties.

Regarding my academic background, I am an advanced student in the Architecture and Urbanism program. However, I have also developed an interest in design and programming. I have completed courses in web design and development, JavaScript, SQL, English, and I plan to continue gaining knowledge in this field.
